Hi Gary,

I have had four days to enjoy your Savaria K2 Stairlift. After cautiously researching the product and your firm, I assume its quality, it was Marshall's service level that surprised me.

Marshall was careful to appraise me that he was running late. His staging of the installation site insured that the product and my home would not be damaged. He thoroughly discussed the options to hide the power cord and did his best to install the stairlift. He stayed until 7:30 PM to properly finish the installation before he left...and it was a Friday!

Now retired, I was the Director of Product Development for the Global Furniture Group. My product expectations are high and guided by years of experience. Marshall and your product surpassed my expectations. The proof is, I have never written a letter of recommendation, and I would be pleased if your shared my letter with any of your prospective clients.

Yours truly,
